EXPLANATION.

Directions.—First, pay no attention to pages; use numbers instead. Example:

No. 9. Third Generation. 4.

1) Barbara Beery, born March 12, 1795. Joseph Wenger, born Sept. 17, 1794, married April 28, 1818. Their children:

1. Catharine Wenger, born March 20, 1819. No. 33.

2. John B. Wenger, born Sept. 16, 1820. No. 34.

"No. 9," as above, means that Barbara Beery is the ninth family thus far recorded. "Third generation" indicates three steps down from the first generation, therefore Catharine and John B. Wenger are fourth generation. The figure "4" following the word "generation" refers you back to No. 4, where you find Barbara Beery and her father's family recorded.

"1)" means that Barbara Beery is the first child of her father's family.

"1." means that Catharine Wenger is the first child, and "2." means that John B. Wenger is the second. (See example).

"No. 33," following the name Catharine Wenger takes you farther on to No. 33, where you find her family recorded, and so on through the entire work.

Take some of your best known relatives for example, where marriages occur, the name of the person who is in direct relation to the Beery lineage is placed first on record, as also the same in the index.

DEDICATION.

In dedicating this book, may it be indelibly stamped upon our minds that we should be greatly indebted

1. To our ancestors for having the privilege of being born in a land of Bibles and religious liberties.
2. To our parents who so faithfully discharged their duties in rearing us in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and taught us the principles of being law-abiding citizens.
3. To the efficient co-workers who so arduously and faithfully aided us in this work, all of which is duly appreciated. Indeed, to such we are greatly indebted.
4. And to those of the present day, who are descendants of these noted ancestors, as well as those of future generations. May we all, when weighed in the balances of righteous principles, not be found wanting.

J. H. W.

PREFACE.

The inclinations and instinctive principles of the human race are to look forward to future aims. This is a great factor in life, in fact it is highly important that we do so, especially from the standpoint of providing for our household affairs. More especially is it necessary for us to look forward, and onward, and upward, to a better and higher plane of life,—morally, socially, and religiously, and be fully prepared for the spiritual life which is to come in the future. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness," etc. See Matt. 6:33.

All this having been accomplished, we should also be allowed to cast a look at the past, and especially should we go back in reverence to our noble ancestors, to whom we owe a debt of gratitude and respect. The attention of the reader is here called to the present history of the descendants of these noble ancestors of the Beery generations, which should be indelibly fixed in the minds of every relative. It is a history which should have been completed a hundred or more years ago.

Many years ago the author desired that some interested relative would search the various avenues of the Beery genealogy, and to outline and complete it in book form. He considered himself too incompetent for the important task. After having written the Wenger History in 1883, he was pressed into the work of the Beery genealogy, in which he now craves the forbearance of all readers to whom this unpolished work may be presented.

JOSEPH H. WENGER.

History of the Descendants of Abraham Beery.

Abraham Beery, the progenitor of this line of history, emigrated, at the age of eighteen years, from Switzerland, arriving at Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 19, 1730, and later settled in Adams county. He had been persecuted in his native country, not only from the standpoint of his religious views, but also from the force of law, which compelled every able-bodied man at the age of eighteen years to do military service. This induced him to emigrate to a land of liberty.

During these persecutions in Switzerland many who entertained conscientious scruples suddenly left that domain. By private conveyance, or perhaps on foot, they came to Holland, where they enjoyed greater liberties of freedom. Later they left Rotterdam, Holland, and set sail for America. Then, too, some of them being in very limited financial circumstances, were compelled to remain in Holland for a time, in order to earn money to pay their passage to America.

These people, who entertained non-resistant principles, were made a target for fierce persecutions at the hands of the European government as well as, from many of its private citizens.

Hunted, persecuted, driven away from their homes, and burned at the stake, many of these people in Europe sought safety in America, where freedom of worship was promised them.

They were Mennonites, and by occupation were mostly tillers of the soil, and, to a great extent, settled in colonies where they could more easily assemble for worship.

It is claimed by some of the Beery descendants that this, our progenitor, came from Holland instead of Switzerland. Very true. This matter is easily explained from the fact that Rotterdam, in Holland, was the port from which all emigrants from Switzerland took passage on the ships sailing to America.

During the first hundred years of their sojourn in America they were engaged strictly in farming pursuits. After coming to this country they were compelled to undergo the hardships of pioneer life in the colonial new world, among wild beasts and savage Indians. They began in the forest, and by industry and honest methods, they have changed that wild country into meadows, wheat fields, and happy homes, and secured for their descendants a financial basis far beyond that which they themselves had the privilege of beginning with.

Among the Beerys in America there are to-day thousands of their descendants, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada to the arid South. The great majority of them are a fine people,—a people who in the past, as well as the present, are devoting their lives to religious principles. There are included among them the various vocations of the business and professional world.

In this history we find ministers of the Gospel in the various denominations of to-day. We find doctors, lawyers, teachers, farmers, and intelligent professional men and women in vast numbers, and yet I cannot understand why it is that none of these worthy people ever were sufficiently interested in getting up a history of this noted relationship long, long ago. Indeed the writer feels his insignificance in doing this work, especially so when he compares himself to his more intelligent relatives of the Beery family.

The following is copied from the registry of emigrants at the port of Philadelphia, Pa., including names and dates of foreigners who came from the different portions of Europe, when America was yet in its infancy, and when these noble ancestors risked their lives and their all in order to gain freedom.

Nicholas Piere (Beery) was registered as an emigrant at the port of Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 16, 1727. The mark

(X) after his name indicates that he was not able to write, and that the registry was made by one of the emigrant clerks, who spelled the name as best he knew, or could understand, or perhaps to suit himself. The spelling would indicate Swiss nationality. The ship upon which he sailed was called "The Friendship." With about two hundred on board, it sailed from Rotterdam, Holland, June 20, 1727, and nearly four months later reached Philadelphia as above stated. Many were sick during the voyage and a number died. The reader will please bear in mind that, previous to the invention of steam power, the ships were propelled by the prevailing winds, which very often drifted them in the wrong direction.

Then again Abraham Beer (Beery) came from Switzerland and likewise registered at Philadelphia, having arrived at that port Oct. 19, 1736. Him we claim as the progenitor of the descendants of the line of Beerys referred to in this present history.

It is true that the names of these two men are different in the spelling, yet we must take into consideration the fact that they understood nothing but German, and the clerks nothing but English. Hence we can readily conclude that the German awkwardness in pronouncing and the English lack of comprehension on the part of the clerks, is accountable for the difference. Every person well knows the amount of clashing between the two languages, especially so where neither one knows the pronunciation of the other.

These two men came from Switzerland, and first settled in Pennsylvania and later in Rockingham county, Virginia, in the Shenandoah Valley. Still later the aforesaid Nicholas Beery, of 1727, emigrated to Fairfeld county, Ohio, and died there. His descendants are numerous and have scattered to all parts of America. We have reasons to believe that these two men were brothers, yet we have no positive evidence that such was the fact. Tradition says that three starward brothers by the name of Beery came from Switzerland to Pennsylvania (perhaps at different times) and later to Virginia. Abraham remained in Virginia, Nicholas went to Ohio, and the third one went to North Carolina. As to the descendants of Nicholas, Mr. A. W. Dupier, of Thorndale, Ohio, is investigating that lineage, and it is probable that in the near future he will publish a history of the same.

Again, Peter Bier, Sr., Peter Bier, Jr., and Matthews Huwohl (Heatwole), the progenitor of the Heatwoles of Rockingham county, Virginia,—these three men,—sailed from Rotterdam, arrived at Philadelphia and registered Sept. 15, 1748.

Johan Heinrich Bory also registered Oct. 26, 1767.

Jacob Beier registered Sept. 17, 1771.

Johannes Beer registered Oct. 16, 1772.

Frederic Beyer registered Oct. 16, 1772.

The following is gathered from the Land Office at Harrisonburg (then called Rocktown), Rockingham county, Virginia: "Abraham Beery in 1787 bought 157 acres of land of Daniel Stoner." It is very evident that this is the Abraham Beery who came from Switzerland to Pennsylvania Oct. 19, 1736, and in 1787 to the above place. Also Benjamin Beery owned 260 acres of land in Rockingham county, Virginia, in 1795. John Peary sold land in 1796 to Jacob Cassin. G. Beery, in 1797, bought land of David Gilmore. Jacob Peary, in 1800, bought land of Leonard Herring.

As before mentioned, the Beerys came from Switzerland, which is bounded on the south by Italy, on the north by Germany, and on the west by France. In Europe there is a province called Beira, which has an area of about ten thousand miles, and a population of about five millions. The surface of this is mountainous and its plains very sandy and unproductive.

The origin, or derivation, of the name Beery is not positively known, unless it comes from the afore-named province. It is very probable that the name has undergone changes in the different ways of spelling and pronunciation, especially in the many languages through which it has perhaps passed. No doubt it has given rise to the difference in spelling, such as Beer, Bier, Biera, Bery, Piere, Piery, Peary, Beary and Beery.

THE AUTHOR.

AN HISTORICAL SOUVENIR.

An incident in connection with the ancestors of a certain lineage of the Beery generations, dates back to about the year 1748, and the souvenir is still continuing its mission to the present day. This aged relic was handed down by the ancestors to Barbara Kagy, who married John Beery (See No. 4). This Barbara Kagy's mother's maiden name was Barbara Stoner (Steiner in German) who was born in Germany, December, 1732, came to America, and on Feb. 2, 1756, married Henry Kagy, who was born in Lancaster county, Pa., Nov. 11, 1728, and died in Shenandoah county, Va., Oct. 8, 1783, having eight sons and three daughters. In 1768 they moved to Page county, Va., and in 1769 to Smiths Creek, Shenandoah county, Va., where they bought 404 acres of land for five shillings for the said tract. Total equivalent 83 1-3 cents for the entire tract including one ear of Indian corn, as deferred payment, at every Christmas feast, it lawfully demanded.

But to the point in question. The above Barbara Stoner (Steiner) brought with her, over the briny deep, a finely-polished earthen vessel, the capacity of which is about three-fourths of a pint, similar to the vessels shown in the pictures of the marriage feast, when Jesus turned water into wine. John 2:6.

The writer's great-grandmother, Barbara Stoner, (Steiner)—Kagy, presented this souvenir to her eldest daughter, with the understanding that it should likewise be handed down through the lines of generations to the eldest daughter of every mother who had previously been in possession of it. Therefore from my great-grandmother, Barbara Stoner (Steiner) Kagy it fell into the hands of each oldest daughter respectively, as follows:

Barbara (Kagy) Beery (see No. 4) second generation, my grandmother, Edmon. Rockingham Co., Va.

Barbara (Beery) Wenger (see No. 6) third generation, my mother, Edmon. Rockingham Co., Va.

Catharine (Wenger) Grove (see No. 33) fourth generation, my sister, New Hope, Augusta Co., Va.

Elisabeth E. (Grove) Flory (see No. 90) fifth generation, my niece, Lemoore, Kings Co., Cal.

Christena (Flory) Brown (see No. 271) sixth generation, my grandniece, Hanford, Cal.

Jessie May Brown (see No. 271) seventh generation, my great-grandniece, Hanford, Cal.

Another peculiarity connected with this sketch is that the above Jessie May Brown is a twin sister to Jacie Mary Brown, both born near Hanford, Cal., Nov. 30, 1891. Hence the question is which of these two sisters is entitled to this old relic? Their grandmother, Mrs. Elisabeth E. Flory, decides that Jessie May is eight minutes older than Jacie Mary.—J. H. W.

NOTICE.

The information from some of the families in this history was so miscellaneously reported to me that it was impossible to arrange them in rotation, or order of birth, etc. The reader will closely observe the numbers, and find them correctly linked together.

If a few families are not recorded in this history, it is due to their failure to respond to my continued calls.

If a few mistakes have occurred, it is largely due to some illegible writing sent in.

On account of the expensive engraving, illustrating and publication of the Wenger History, the low price placed upon the books made it rather difficult for the proceeds to pay the cost, therefore, as the Beery History is a larger work, it was deemed expedient not to illustrate, and to place the price of the book at a fractional advance per copy in order to equalize the accounts.

The material for a work of this nature is more difficult to obtain than that for other books, and it cannot be expected that the price could compare with many other books in the market.

Genealogy of the Beery Family in America.

No. 1. First Generation.

Abraham Beery, born 1718, died May 2, 1799, married Mary Gocherour, born ———, died ———, 1800.

Abraham Beery, at the age of eighteen years, came from the Cantons of Switzerland, landing at Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 19, 1736, settling in Adams Co., where he lived many years, and raised a family. (See preface and historical pages.) Later, as his sons grew to manhood, they emigrated to the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia, settling on Linville Creek, in Rockingham Co., near a place now called Edom, and about five miles north of Harrisonburg, then called Rocktown. In the course of many years, and after his family had thus settled in Virginia he, at the age of 69 years, also settled in Rockingham county in 1787, at a place now called Cross Keys, about five miles south-east of Harrisonburg.

The writer, when a boy and yet under the paternal roof, saw the old farm house in which these dear old great-grandparents had lived over a century ago.

What an interesting chapter could have been written relative to the history of these dear old ancestors, had it been done a hundred or more years ago! How sad we feel to know that so much of their history has been lost by the thief of time. Indeed, how easily the facts could have been established, and indelibly fixed upon the minds of every descendant. Still, we are glad for the remaining facts that we are able to produce even at this late date.

Mr. Beery died at Cross Keys, Va., May 26, 1799, at the age of 81 years, and was buried at Union church cemetery, as shown by a small white tombstone erected to his memory by his descendants in 1902, over a hundred years after his death.

His wife, Mary, after she made her home with her eldest son, Abraham, who lived one and one-half miles south of Edom, now (1905) known as the Anna Wampler farm, where she died in 1800, and was buried by the side of her son, John, and wife, in the Brennemian cemetery, now known as the Lindale Mennonite church, a short distance north of Edom. To the graves of the above mother, son and wife, tombstones were also placed in 1902. It has been proved beyond a doubt that the above Abraham and Mary Beery were members of the Mennonite church, as also were their descendants down to the third and fourth generations.—J. H. W.

The following is the family of Abraham and Mary Beery:

1. Abraham Beery, b. 1762. No. 2.
2. Nicholas Beery, b. 1764. No. 3.
3. John Beery, b. 1767. No. 4.

5. George Beery, b. 1773. No. 5.
6. Magdalene Beery, b. 1777. No. 6.

No. 2. Second Generation. 1.

1) Abraham Beery, born in Pennsylvania, 1762, married Magdalana Rife, born ———. She died in 1790. Abraham Beery was born in Pennsylvania and very likely in Adams county. At least we have evidence that his father, Abraham, came from that county to Virginia. He settled on a farm one and one-half miles south of Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., now (1905) known as the Anna Wampler farm where he died of old age. It is very evident that he was buried in the old cemetery now known as the Lindale Mennonite church, where the remains of his mother, brother John and wife, and other relatives, were placed. He was very fond of company. In fact, he was the most desay person known in his day, so much so that he was obliged to spend the greater part of the summer in the basement or cellar of his house. In the last years of his old age he was much annoyed with hysterical afflictions. We have evidence that he and his wife were Mennonites. His first wife died about 1796, and a few years later he married Barbara Good.—J. H. W.

2) Nicholas Beery, born in Pennsylvania, 1764; died April, 1815; married Barbara Kagy, who was supposed to be a first cousin to his brother John's wife of the same name.

Mrs. Beery came from York county, Pa., previous to 1786, and settled near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., where he died in April, 1815.

3) John Beery, born in Adams county, Pa., 1767, died near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., June 25, 1834. Barbara Kagy, born in Shenandoah county, Va., June 12, 1795, died near Edom, Va., Sept. 25, 1835. She is supposed to be a first cousin to his brother Nicholas' wife (see No. 3). The subject of this sketch came from Pennsylvania to Virginia when a young man. As his parents afterwards came from Adams county, Pa., to Virginia, this is some evidence that he was born in that county. Then, sometime between 1792 and 1794, he married Barbara Kagy (my grandmother) of Shenandoah county, Va., and, during the first few years of their married life, they lived in New Market, Shenandoah Co., Va., near the line between Shenandoah and Rockingham counties, where their first child (Barbara, my mother) was born March 12, 1795. Soon afterwards, about 1796, they purchased a large tract of land, mostly timber, about three-fourths of a mile south of Edom, Rockingham Co., Va. Here they made a fine home and raised a large family of industrious and intelligent children. The homestead portion of this farm fell to his eighth son, Henry Beery, and later to Henry's son, Henry C. Beery. Then, in 1898 or 1900, it was purchased by Mr. Perry Swank. A part of the present Noah W. Beery farm and a portion of the Isaac N. Beery farm were taken from the foregoing original purchase. Grandfather John Beery erected a fulling mill and carding machine upon his premises. This building was burned about 1810 or 1812, but soon after was replaced by a brick building, enlarged and improved. This was about a hundred yards northwest of the homestead buildings. Here he died of old age June 25, 1834, and his wife died Sept. 25, 1835, from injuries received by being thrown from her formerly gentle horse, while returning, after services, from the Brenneman Mennonite church. The accident occurred by a hog jumping out from the old-fashioned fence corner, and frightening her horse. However she lived for a time in a crippled condition. She and her husband are buried in the Lindale Mennonite church cemetery, just north of Edom, where small but neat white tombstones were erected by the descendants in 1902. These dear old grandparents were consecrated members of the Mennonite church as also were all their children except two.--(Grandson, Joseph M. Wenger, South English, Iowa.)

4) Jacob Beery, born in Pennsylvania, Sept. 11, 1769, died near Lancaster, Fairfield Co., Ohio, April 2, 1842. His wife, Mary Good, of Rockingham county, Virginia, was born May 13, 1777, died Dec. 8, 1848. Both were buried in the cemetery four miles east of Lancaster, Fairfield Co., Ohio, near Lewis Beery's. Mary Good was a Sister to Bishop Daniel Good, of Rockingham county, Virginia, who was a well-known minister in the Mennonite church in that county. It is singularly strange that nothing more of this family could be found.

5) George Beery, born in Pennsylvania, in 1773, and Susan Funk, born in Pennsylvania, Oct. 30, 1775, were married in Rockingham county, Virginia, in 1796. She was a Sister to Joseph Funk, the noted singing-school teacher of Singers Glen, Rockingham Co., Va. They lived in Virginia until 1810, when they migrated by team and wagon over the mountains to Ohio, settling for a time in Perry county, and later to Fairfield county, Ohio.

Their children were all born in Rockingham county, Virginia except the youngest, Abraham G. The parents and all their children were Mennonites.

6) Magdaline Beery, born in Pennsylvania, 1777, died near Woodstock Shenandoah Co., Va., in 1832. Abraham Burner was born in 1777, died as above in 1850. He was married in 1797. Both are buried three miles east of Woodstock, within 100 yards of their old home, now the property of their grandson, William L. Burner. It has been in possession of Abraham Burner's descendants ever since colonial times. The above Abraham Burner, of 1777, was a son of Jacob Burner who with his brothers John and Ulrich came from Switzerland to America in the early part of 1700. Jacob settled in Shenandoah county, Virginia, where Abraham, the subject of this sketch, was born, and where he lived and died. The above-mentioned John settled in the adjoining Page county, Virginia, and Ulrich in what was then called West Virginia. Abraham and Magdaline Burner's children were all born near Woodstock, Shenandoah Co., Va.

13. 1796, and died Feb. 27, 1869. (See Wenger History.) Abraham Beery is supposed to have been born at his father's homestead, now (1905) owned by Mrs. Anna Wampler, one and one-half miles south of Edom, Rockingham Co., Va. After marriage he lived for a time on Muddy Creek (thence called "Muddy Creek Abe") near what is now called Singers Glen in the above county. The greater part of his life was spent on a farm which he bought two miles north of Harrisonburg on the Kratzer Spring road. Later on, during the years of 1860 and thereafter, this farm has been in possession of Mr. Emanuel Rhodes. Mr. Beery died at the above place, and was buried at the Lindele Mennonite church cemetery. He and wife and all their children, except one, were Mennonites.—J. H. W.

1) Barbara Beery was born in New Market, Shenandoah Co., Va., March 12, 1795, and died near Edom, Va., Aug. 26, 1871, and Joseph Wenger, born near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., Sept. 17, 1794, and died Feb. 14, 1865, were married April 28, 1818 (See Wenger History).

Barbara Beery was the oldest of her father John Beery's family, and was raised at the homestead three-fourths of a mile south of Edom, Rockingham Co., Va. When at the age of 23 years she married Joseph Wenger. Soon afterwards they began housekeeping on a portion of the Wenger estate, one-fourth mile east of Edom, where they started in the forest, and with the blessings of good health, brawny arms, and willing hands they converted it into a well-improved farm, besides adding other farms. It is natural that we reverence our parents. Indeed, it is due unto them. But how sad it is in some instances where children do not respect father and mother, especially in old age. The above parents were kind to their children, yet strict, and decisive, and the longer I live, the more I consider that they did the right thing at the right time, and the more thankful I am for the training and advice I received at their hands. My memory of these sainted and departed parents is indelibly fixed in my mind.

This sketch is written on the date of mother's anniversary of her birth, 110 years ago to-day (March 12, 1905). These parents united with the Mennonite church in early life, and are buried at the Lindale Mennonite church cemetery, a short distance north of Edom, Va.—(Their Son, Joseph H. Wenger, South English, Iowa.)

3) Daniel Beery, born near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., April 5, 1798, died near Lancaster, Fairfield Co., Ohio, April 17, 1873. Anna Huffman, born in Page county, Va., Sept. 30, 1794, died near Lancaster, Ohio, Sept. 11, 1855. She was a sister to Maria Huffman who married Jacob Burner (See No. 903). They were married in Virginia Sept. 5, 1820, and soon after journeyed in the old-fashioned, two-wheeled "gig" to Fairfield county, Ohio, attended by the hard hips connected with such a journey through the mountains. They settled on a farm which became their permanent home. Later a railroad was built and Berne Station was established near their home. This was during the infancy of settlement in Ohio. By industry, good management, and good judgment they converted the forest into a good home, which being in a good country, at the time of his death was valued at twenty thousand dollars. In point of sociability he was a noble man; his church relation being United Evangelical. Every person of unsuspecting character was always welcome at his commodious home. He was noted for honesty, integrity, and just dealing with his fellow-man. His death was universally regretted.—(By his Son, Lewis Beery, Lancaster, Fairfield Co., Ohio.)

5) John K. Beery, born near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., June 4, 1801, died Oct. 11, 1885. Magdalana Wenger, born near Edom, Va., Nov. 6, 1800, died April 12, 1876. They were married Aug. 25, 1819.

Uncle John K. Beery was a man of robust constitution and, like many of our later ancestors, started in business at a time which could be termed near the close of pioneer life in the forests of Rockingham county, Virginia. In a financial way he had clear conceptions backed up by good judgment in business matters, and always knew a good thing when he saw it; was very energetic in business, and although he suffered some severe losses, yet he accumulated quite an amount of property. He was very emphatic in his theories, and when a question was settled in his mind, it was folly to endeavor to change his opinion: yet he was kind to his family, and their obedience to him was sure, knowing that his commands were positive.—J. H. W.

69 Mary Beery was born near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., Nov. 20, 1802, died in Fairfield county, Ohio, Oct. 1832, and was buried at Mt. Tabor cemetery in that county. Jacob Brenneman, born near Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., Oct. 7, 1796, died near Elida, Allen Co., Ohio, Jan. 1, 1865. Jacob was a son of Abraham Brenneman and Magdalana Schenk. The above Jacob Brenneman and Mary Beery were married in Virginia, October, 1820. In the fall of 1820 they moved to Fairfield county, Ohio, where they lived until after his wife's death when he moved to near Elida, Allen Co., Ohio, where he married Caroline Swisher. The writer was so well acquainted with the subject of this sketch that he would almost consider this history incomplete without giving his testimony in favor of the good deeds of this noble departed Uncle Jacob Brenneman.

He was perfect in kindness, honesty, sociability, and all those good qualities which go toward making a man happy, and promoting happiness to all around him. His first wife, Mary, died before my time, but as she was a sister to my sainted mother I have reason to think that she was a noble woman. The above couple were Mennonites.—J. H. W.

Aunt Anna (Beery) Wenger was a model woman.

What we mean by "model" is for us to imitate her sociability and kindness; especially was she noted for her motherly disposition. She was very fleshy, her weight being about three hundred pounds. During the last years of her life she was very helpless. She and her husband are buried with their fathers and mothers in the Lindale cemetery, north of Edom, Va.--J. H. W.

To me there is an unbounded pleasure mixed with sadness in tracing the life of this dear and noble old Uncle Joseph Beery. What else can we expect in this world but a miscellaneous mixture of joy and sorrow? Every one looked upon Mr. Beery as one among the most noble men upon earth. His life record had been characterized by the many sterling qualities of upright manhood and religious principles. He was endowed with more than ordinary intelligence. Born and reared near Edom, Va., a progressive farmer and business man, he settled in the vicinity of Cross Keys, Rockingham Co., Va., south of Harrisonburg. He was also very prominent in the business circles of his country, being very emphatic in what he believed to be right. He certainly was a noble man and a gentleman. But alas, the sad day dawned upon him. Having, in old age, suffered wrong treatment from the hand of some of his fellowmen, whom he had often befriended, his mind became unbalanced and he committed the rash act of self-destruction July 2, 1874, and was buried at the Union church cemetery near his home.—J. H. W.

Catharine (Beery) Cline was the youngest of her father, John Beery's, family. I am indeed glad for such relations as Aunt Kate was. I venture the assertion that she never had an enemy in the world. Her good deeds compare with those of her Sister Anna and my sainted mother. (I never saw the other two sisters.) Her continued noble deeds in life, her sociability and kindness are indelibly fixed upon the minds of all who knew her. She possessed the good qualities that make the woman the best among God's gifts to man.—J. H. W.

6) Abraham W. Beery, born near Harrisonburg, Va., March 28, 1829, Feb. 6, 1866, married Martha McCord, of Woodford county, Illinois, who was born Oct. 4, 1841. They emigrated from Illinois to California in April, 1890. Address, South Pasadena, Los Angeles Co., Cal.

A. W. Beery was born of parents who were considered among the best people in Rockingham county, Virginia, as were also his grandparents. They were noted for their pious and religious characteristics in their denomination, the Mennonite church.

The subject of this sketch was born a natural business man, and became a man of wealth, and while he was shrewd in driving sharp bargains, it was said by his neighbors that he was just in dealing with his fellow-man, his word being as good as his bond. However, very different from his parents, brother and sisters, and relatives, he never believed the Bible, nor in religious principles; neither did he believe in future reward or punishment. The writer had a very pleasant visit with him and his worthy family in California in 1900. Mr. Beery's health had been failing for a year or more when Feb. 8, 1903, he died at his home in South Pasadena, Cal., at the age of nearly 74 years. The body was privately cremated a few days later. He leaves a worthy and intelligent wife and two daughters.—J. H. W.

2) John B. Wenger, born at Edom, Va., Sept. 16, 1820, died suddenly March 31, 1883. He was a member of the Brethren church. Anna Shank was born near Harrisonburg, Va., Sept. 15, 1824; married Aug. 17, 1843. She belonged to the Mennonite church. Mr. Wenger was of rather delicate health from youth to old age, and yet he always had an eye to business, and in a financial way he accumulated considerable of this world's goods. He always donated liberally to charitable purposes, and poor people were generously supplied from his immense stock of provisions. He raised a small family, whose reputation is beyond any doubt. For twenty-five or thirty years he was a consistent member of the Mennonites, after which time he seemed to consider his duty in a different way and united with the Brethren, in which church he was an arduous worker during his life. They lived and died two miles west of Harrisonburg, Va.—J. H. W.

He was married Nov. 11, 1841. He was a farmer and mechanic. Elisabeth Wenger Blosser was naturally of a delicate constitution, yet her sphere in life was a useful one. She died at the home of her only son, at Atlanta, Ga., at the age of over eighty-one years. Like her sister she was of a kind, noble and motherly disposition. In early life she and her husband united with the Mennonite church, while yet in Virginia.—J. H. W.

4) Isaac Wenger, born at Edom, Va., Nov. 22, 1823. Lydia Brenneman, born near Edom, Va., Nov. 10, 1827, died March 4, 1903. Farmer, Linville, Rockingham Co., Va. Mr. Wenger like his brother, John B., was an exceptional expert in business management, and yet he was never in a hurry, neither did he hurry any of the men in his employ, of whom he always had many, nor did he have trouble with anyone. When trouble was in sight, he would subdue it with love and kindness. It was said that he owned about 1,600 acres of land on Linville Creek, Rockingham Co., Va., including two large flouring mills, of which he himself superintended in his easy, good-natured way. He finally retired from business, and shared his property with his children. He was a staff and benefactor to poor people. He and his wife united with the Mennonite church sometime in the forties. He died at 2 P. M., April 28, 1904, and is buried at the Lindale cemetery.—J. H. W.

5) Abraham Wenger, born at Edom, Va., May 31, 1825. Sarah Morgan, born near New Market, Va., June 12, 1823, died in Morgan county, Missouri, March 21, 1870. They moved from Melrose, Rockingham Co., Va., to near Versailles, Morgan Co., Mo., in April, 1869, which was their address. Mr.

Wenger was a stout, hearty, robust man, but death called him shortly after he had passed the milestone of middle age. He possessed an inexhaustible supply of ingenuity in a mechanical way. While enjoying a good home in Missouri, and at the point of prosperity, he was called to the world beyond. He raised a fine, prosperous family, who are considered among our best people. Like his elder brothers he was naturally endowed with kindness and hospitality. In early life he and his wife united with the Mennonites in Virginia, and were devoted to Christianity. Farmer and mechanic, Versailles, Mo.—

Mennonites, farmers, Harrisonburg, Va. Anna Wenger Good and husband lived and died three miles west of Harrisonburg, Va. She was an exceptionally kind-hearted woman, always helping the poor and doing good wherever needed. She was also highly esteemed on account of her Christian graces. She was truly a light in the sense of the Scriptural injunction, "Let your light shine," etc. She was much concerned about the welfare of others and especially her children. She died suddenly, while taking a noon-day rest. She and her husband were Mennonites.—

Mr. Brunk is a minister in the Mennonite church. Mr. Wenger lived at Greenmount, Rockingham Co., Va., and was a man of industry, integrity, and piety, very exact in business, a strong advocate of peace principles and nonconformity to the world, and a faithful, consistent member of the Mennonite church. When forced into the Confederate army, and shouldering the musket, he remarked that by compulsion he would be obedient so far, but assured the officer that he would hurt no one. In his every-day life he practiced the principles that he always advocated, and was true to his convictions, regardless of cost. His life was worthy of imitation.—(His son, Solomon B. Barbara Wenger Grove and husband lived on a farm south of Waynesboro, Augusta Co., Va. She lived to a good old age, and died rather suddenly, her sickness being of about thirty minutes' duration. She was a type of her sisters in kindness and innocence, as well as all other good qualities. She and her husband in early life united with the Mennonite church.—J. H. W.

Mary Wenger Geil is the youngest of five sisters, and in these sisters is a very marked similarity in regard to the good qualities they possessed. Surely the writer is proud of such sisters, and thinks that these good qualities are due to proper parental training. As the writer is the tenth and youngest of this family, he thinks that we cannot sufficiently thank our parents for the timely advice they gave us during our childhood. Mary and her husband are living at the old homestead, where we were all raised, one-fourth mile east of Edom, Va. Both are living at present (1905).—J. H. W.

10) Joseph H. Wenger, born at Edom, Rockingham Co., Va., Nov. 15, 1835, came to South English, Iowa, Sept. 13, 1861. Elisabeth L. McAfferty, born in Wayne county, Ohio, May 8, 1843, and came with her parents to South English, Iowa, in 1855. They were married April 5, 1868. Address, South English, Iowa. Mr. Wenger, the tenth and youngest of his father's family, is a man of small stature. He was of a hearty constitution until he was nineteen years of age, when a spell of sickness afflicted him during seven years. At the age of twenty-six he regained his health and retained it until the declining years of old age. At the present time (1905) he is more active, though in his seventieth year, than the majority of men at his age. He came to South English, Iowa, in 1861, and braved the trials of pioneer life as a farmer and stock raiser. In this he was successful, being a close observer and well posted in business. His clear conception and foresight made him useful in his community as an adviser, and he was generally selected as such in unraveling difficult problems. He is liberal to the poor and needy, and ready for charitable work, and especially for that of a religious nature. He emphatically denounces bitter controversies, because of difference in religious views. He is an ardent enquirer and searcher in the deepest depths of old-time events and relics, and is noted as a historian. He is the author of this present Beery history. He has searched every possible avenue that would bring historical matter to the front. In 1903 he completed a history of the Wenger generations from 1727 to the present. At middle age, Oct. 23, 1881, he and his wife united with the Brethren church. Retiring from business in 1894, they have traveled over a majority of States and territories in the United States, from Canada to Florida, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and have visited many States a number of times.—(Solomon B. Farmer, church relation. Evangelical. Address, Bern Station, Fairfield Co., Ohio. Cousin Frederick Beery was a man possessed of rather more than ordinary good qualities. In classing him with other good men, he was rather an exception in kindness, sociability, honesty and piety. But, alas, death by accident cut him down at the age of forty-seven years. He came to a premature death by a fall from a chestnut tree, which he had climbed for the purpose of securing the fruit for his children, some of whom were witnesses to the sad accident, which resulted in instant death. His last resting place is at Mt. Tabor church cemetery near his home in Bern township. He received his education in the country schools near his home. He raised a large, fine family of intelligent children, and as an industrious farmer accumulated a goodly portion of this world's goods. He and wife were Methodists. Children all born at the above homestead.—J. H. W.

1) Dr. Joseph W. Blosser, born at Dayton, Va., April 23, 1844, and Margaret E. Stephenson, born Jan. 16, 1845, were married in Jasper county, Mo., Oct. 15, 1868. Methodist. Address, 23 W. North Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Blosser, at the age of 14, came from Rockingham county, Va., with his parents to Upshur county, W. Va. At the age of 21 he graduated at the Physio-Medical College at Cincinnati, Ohio, first practicing in Elkhart county, Ind., then in Jasper county, Mo. From early childhood he had strong religious inclinations, and in his youth accepted his Savior whom he continued to serve faithfully during the years of his practice. In 1870 he entered the ministry, doing double work as a physician and minister. In 1881 while living at Macon City, Mo., he began evangelistic work, which he continued until 1895, traveling in eighteen States, from New York to Kansas and Florida, holding services in churches, tents, halls, court-houses, and in the open air. During these efforts, thousands were moved to confess their Savior. In 1895 he, with his family and aged mother, came to Atlanta, Ga., where he built a tabernacle at his own expense with a seating capacity of 800, he serving as pastor. He is also the inventor of the Dr. Blosser catarrh remedy, so widely known, the manufacture of which requires many helpers, and is superintended by his two worthy and efficient sons who are among the best of business men.—(A. 5) Barbara Wenger, born near Edom, Va., Oct. 27, 1858, died single Oct. 17, 1896. The subject of this sketch was one among the most noble young women of her day. The writer does not consider this history entirely complete without bearing testimony to her good qualities. She was a consistent and consecrated member of the Mennonite church, and her daily life and conduct was guided by God's Holy Spirit, which never makes mistakes. How sad is her departure: we cannot understand why such devoted Christians are called away in the prime of life, unless it is to reform the sinner and those who are less Christianized. It is to be hoped that her brothers and sisters and all who knew her may follow her example.— (Her uncle, J. H. W.)

74 Abraham Miller Beery was born near Edom, Va. April 25, 1836. Death and burial at Forest Rose cemetery, Lancaster, Ohio, July 31, 1895. Louisa Bury (not Beery), daughter of Anna M. Bury (nee Beck), was born July 16, 1844. They were married July 16, 1868. English Lutheran. Merchant, Lancaster, Ohio. Abraham M. Beery went to Fairfield county, Ohio, before reaching the age of twenty-one years, and worked a short time on the farm for his uncle, Michael Miller. In 1858 he entered the dry goods store of Mrs. E. A. Beck as clerk, and remained in that situation for nine years, with the exception of the time spent in the Federal army. He enlisted and served as commissary Sergeant in the 61st O. V. I. Was present at the battles of Cedar Mountain, and Bull Run No. 2; was discharged at Germantown, Oct. 5, 1862, on account of physical disability. In 1867, he commenced the dry goods business under the firm name of Beery, Brown & Co., and six years later sold his interest to P. Rising and remained with him and successor until February, 1882, when he formed a partnership, under the firm name of Beery, Beck & Obaugh, and began the clothing business, which he continued for a number of years. In 1895 he was elected mayor of Lancaster City but died after a few months of service. He was a man respected and honored by all who knew him and his death at the age of fifty-nine was universally regretted.—(His son, Dr. G. O. Beery, Lancaster, Ohio.) Additional: A. M. Beery and the writer were not only first cousins, but schoolmates, playmates, and chums in the greatest degree. We studied, romped, and worked many days together in our youthful days, and I often recall many pleasant incidents that occurred in our presence fifty and sixty years ago that remain sacred to my memory. He possessed so many of the good qualities of his noble father who died when A. M. was but a youth.—(Joseph H. Wenger, South English, Iowa.)

4) Samuel Ralston was born near Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 2, 1829. At the age of two years he was afflicted with scrofula, which affected his eyesight. At the age of twelve, when his vision was almost gone, he was sent to the Institute for the Blind, at Staunton, Va., where he remained until he arrived at the age of nineteen years. Having taken great interest in instrumental music, which he mastered to perfection, he afterwards traveled much as a music teacher. In 1897 he was paralyzed, and became perfectly helpless. He died, unmarried, Oct. 28, 1901.— (By his sister, Fannie J. Zirkle, Greenmount, Va.)

5) Capt. John H. Ralston, was born near Harrisonburg, Va., March 18, 1832. He married Hettie Swank, who died (no date). He married, as his second wife, Elizabeth Messick (no date). Mr. Ralston was captain of the Tenth Virginia regiment in the Confederate army. He was wounded three days before the surrender, April 6, 1865, and, with others, was left for dead on the battlefield. His watch and other valuables, with the announcement of his death, were reported to his friends at home, who knew no better until just the day before his funeral was to have been preached, when he returned home to the great surprise of all who knew him. It seems that, late in the day of the battle, it was accidentally found that Capt. Ralston's life was not entirely extinct. He was taken to a hospital, nursed, and fed on gruel for six weeks. Finally he recovered and is still living at a very advanced age. Mr. Ralston resides on the farm where he was born and where his father was born, reared, lived and died. Here also Capt. Ralston's grandfather had lived and died. This farm has been in possession of this lineage of the Ralstons for over a hundred years. He has no children. Farmer, Harrisonburg, Va.—F. J. Z.

1) Virginia C. Myers, born at Greenmount, Va., July 3, 1861, united with the Brethren church at the age of 13 years. Jacob A. Miller was born at the same place, May 20, 1859. They were married in Virginia Sept. 5, 1880, Brethren, Manvel, Texas. Mr. Miller united with the Brethren church in Virginia in 1878. He was elected to the ministry at Manvel, Texas, in 1893, and later ordained as elder in charge of evangelistic work. After marriage they lived in Virginia until July 25, 1893, when they emigrated to Manvel, Texas, for the benefit of Mrs. Miller's health, which was greatly improved. Sept. 8, 1900, they were among the few whose lives were spared from the ravishes of the destructive storm, in which they lost nearly all their property.

10) Peter V. Beery, born near Edom, Va., Jan. 12, 1807, died near Logan, Hocking Co., Ohio, Oct. 12, 1899. Margaret Pulse, born near Harrisonburg, Va., Nov. 21, 1813, died in Ohio, March 18, 1874. They were married in Virginia in 1831. Mr. Beery and wife in 1835 emigrated from Virginia to Indiana, in 1838 to Fairfield county, Ohio, and in 1840 to the farm where he lived for 50 years, and where he died, in Marion township, Hocking Co., Ohio, near Logan. He came to that vicinity and began pioneer life when Ohio was yet in its infancy. In 1847 he and his wife united with the Mennonite church and for 38 years he was a consistent member, when for causes unknown, in 1885 he united with the U. B. church and remained a consistent member during life. He was a man of exemplary character, peaceable, and upright in his dealings. By hard labor and prudent investments he gained a competency for old age; but above all he lived in peace with God and man, and left a record pure and honored. He did not hoard his treasures, but was liberal, not only to his church, but to those in needy circumstances. His declining years were years of suffering, being deprived of his eyesight, yet he bore it patiently. He left 11 grandchildren and 50 great-grandchildren. 1) Abraham Beery, born near Edom, Rockingham county, Va., Sept. 30, 1786, died Feb. 12, 1870. He was a member of the Mennonite church, and was noted for his kindness, innocence and social disposition; in fact he was a noble man. We have evidence that he had not an enemy in the world. In order to distinguish him from the many other Abraham Beerys in his vicinity at that time, he was familiarly called "Brush Abe," from the fact that he lived in a place called the Brush country. One peculiarity in his case is that he died within fifty yards of the same place where he was born over 83 years previous, which is rather unusual for a person who has attained such a great age.—J. H. W.

1) Josiah Beery, born near Edom, Va., May 30, 1818, died April 20, 1882. He was an industrious farmer and managed his business upon scientific principles, and was of a quiet and peaceful disposition, always attending to his own business in a private and intelligent way. He raised a fine family of intelligent sons and daughters. March 28, 1839, he married Anna S. Jacobs, who was born in Fauquier county, Va., Nov. 7, 1819, and later came with her parents to Shenandoah county, and in 1831 to near Edom, Rockingham county, Va., where she spent the greater part of her life. In the year 1893 she by accident was partially disabled, from which affliction she has made no improvement. Oct. 20, 1900, she, by the assistance of her son Josiah, of Missouri, came to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Martha J. Simmons, at South English, Iowa. At present she is partially helpless, but cheerful and happy with the thought of soon being transferred from earth to heaven. She has been a faithful member of the Lutheran church ever since 1868. Mrs. Beery died May 4, 1905.—J. H. W.

7) Martha J. Beery, born at Edom, Va., Feb. 3, 1850, and William C. Simmers, born near Edom, Va., Jan. 13, 1848, were married at Edom, Feb. 19, 1874. Brethren. Retired farmer, South English, Iowa. Mrs. Simmers was born and raised at Edom, Va. In 1869, at the age of 19, she began teaching in Virginia, and taught five years, or ten terms. In 1874 she was married, and five days later she with her husband emigrated to Iowa, arriving Feb. 27, 1874, and settling near South English, where they still reside. Mrs. Simmers is kindly and nobly caring for the wants of her invalid mother who came from Virginia, October, 1900, to make her home at the pleasant Simmers' residence, until her death, which occurred May 4, 1905. Indeed what a noble work it is that children reverence and look after the welfare of their aged and helpless parents, making their last days known as their best days. W. C. Simmers, as an orphan boy at the age of 6 years, found a pleasant Christian home with the author's parents at Edom, Va., to whom he is indebted for advice and proper training. Feb. 24, 1867, at the age of 19, he embarked for South English, Iowa, where among strangers, with an empty purse, yet with brawny arms and willing mind, he went to work in earnest. He was successful in business, and now is financially independent, his estate being valued at $19,000. Broken down physically, he sold his farm, bought a fine residence in South English and retired from business. He died June 23, 1905.—J. H. W.

1) Charles L. Simmers, born near South English, Iowa, Jan. 22, 1875. The subject of this sketch was raised on a farm, where he worked during the summer, and attended country schools during the winter until he was 20 years of age. With due respect we add that he had the advantage of the training, care and advice of noble Christian parents, which is one of the greatest factors in life. At the age of 12 years he was partly under the influence of Daniel Kaufman, of Missouri (now a minister of the Gospel), who had his home with Mr. Simmers' parents; and later under the instruction of Wm. Gemmil, his schoolteacher during 1893 and '94. Both these were refined, educated, noble young men, whose influence and inspiration led Charles L. to determine that his career should be along educational lines. From the age of 21 to 25 he taught school, after which he was elected principal of the high school in South English. At the close of his second year he resigned that position and entered the State Normal at Cedar Falls, Iowa. He greatly enjoys his work, and hopes soon to obtain a University education, and again enter the teaching profession. The writer offers no flattery, but Mr. Simmers is one among the most noble young men in our vicinity.—J. H. W.

No. 563½. Sixth Generation. 562.

2) Virgil F. Simmers, born near South English, Keokuk county, Iowa, Nov. 13, 1882, lived on a farm until he was 21 years of age. When a boy he took all the advantages that were offered to him to procure an education. He graduated from the country schools at the age of 16. At the age of 18 he was compelled to leave school on account of poor health which blighted his prospects for future usefulness. During the winter of 1904 and 1905, by a course of six months' treatment at the Osteopathic Infirmary at Grinnell, Iowa, his health has greatly improved. He always had a desire for frontier life, and expects in the near future to migrate to a mountainous country for permanent health, and some day acquire a better education that will make life worth living. Virgil F. is a model young man, and young people would do well to follow his example.—J. H. W.

9) Fannie V. Beery was born at Edom, Va., April 1, 1853. Martin V. Kirkpatrick, born near Edom, Va., Aug. 5, 1851, died Jan. 30, 1890. They were married Feb. 3, 1870, and a few days later came West and settled near South English, Iowa, where the family still reside. Brethren. Farmer, South English, Iowa. Mr. Kirkpatrick died at a time when his children were small and needed a father's care. Yet it is a satisfaction to note that through the influence and tireless efforts of the noble mother's care, she succeeded in raising a model family of honorable, intelligent and educated sons and daughters.—J. H. W.

2) Kemper A. Kirkpatrick was born near South English, Iowa, Aug. 8, 1878. Being eleven years of age when his father died, therefore the burden was upon him in helping his widowed mother to provide for the family of small children. During the summer seasons he was hired to do farm work, and in winter attended the high school at South English. In 1899 he began teaching. In 1900 he graduated from the Keokuk County Normal Institute and in 1901 became principal of a school at Baxter, Iowa. Later on he went into the nursery business upon his mother's farm, which he has since successfully operated during the summer, teaching school in winter. In the fall of 1904 he entered the Iowa State College of Agriculture, Mechanical Arts, and Horticultural Departments, of Ames, Iowa, at which place he is a student at present. He is a young man of noble deeds and good moral character and a model man.

Explanation.

The church of the foregoing "Reorganized Latter Day Saints" is an outgrowth of the Mormon church at Salt Lake City, Utah, upon which there is so much public comment. In the erroneous opinion of many people, they consider this denomination to be in full harmony with the Salt Lake discipline, but in their reorganization and reformation they differ vastly from the parent church, and are similar to the old church in only a few points. Baptism is administered by immersion, and their discipline, with a few exceptions, is similar to the popular churches of the present day. The writer has frequently attended their church services, and he finds them to be a common people, with a greater degree of spirituality and morality than many of the so-called popular denominations, although we disagree in some points. They, however, denounce polygamy, or plurality of wives, in the most emphatic language, including many other theories to which the Mormon church adheres. These were the causes of the division, reorganization and reformation. Their headquarters are at Lamoni, Iowa.—J. H. W.

7) Mary Burner who was born near Woodstock, Va., Dec. 2, 1816, and died May 16, 1902, married Daniel McInturff Jan. 19, 1843, who died Aug. 23, 1846. Baptist, Woodstock, Shenandoah Co., Va. Mrs. Mary Burner McInturff, known as "Aunt Polly," was the youngest and last one living of her father's family. She died at the ripe old age of 85 years, some of her brothers and sisters having departed at about the same age. She lived a widow for nearly 50 years. In early life she united with the Baptist church, and lived a devoted Christian life. She was a woman worthy of imitation. When only a small child she, by accident, lost the sight of one of her eyes from the hook of a vicious cow, and although she had only three months school privileges, which in those days were only of a crude type, yet she was well informed on the majority of subjects, far beyond many who enjoy the advantages of the present day. She was very robust and healthy and never had the attention of a physician until a short time before her death. She was a model woman, a "Dorcas." May her relatives, and others imitate her example.—(Her son, Rev. J. B. McInturff, Strasburg, Va.)

VALEDICTION.

The readers of this History will please bear in mind that the author's limited education comes far short of producing a work equivalent to the efforts of those who are up-to-date writers for the "press" and the public. Your unworthy servant, in 1903, completed the long-felt want of the Wenger History, after which he was urgently pressed into the service of writing the Beery genealogy. The above Histories should have been produced long ago, but it appears that no one would undertake the task. While a large number in both lineages are highly and thoroughly educated, no one was willing to do this important work.

I acknowledge that I am an historian, even from childhood, yet I consider myself incapable of producing an up-to-date work, especially so when I compare my ability with that of my educated relatives. However, I have given points and dates, and if, in the future, some of the refined and intelligent relatives wish to add spice and fluency, they can do so.

Nov. 15, 1905, I will have crossed the milestone of seventy years, and am nearing the sunset of life, when, in many cases, fluency and polish in writing have ceased, at least, to some extent, but I hope that coming generations will continue these genealogies by beginning where this History leaves off, so that, as it grows in numbers, it may also grow in interest. The author is greatly indebted to the many who so faithfully and energetically contributed to this work, and aided the author in looking up certain lineages in their vicinities for the benefit of this History.

These contributors are legion, and space forbids to make mention of all of them. The few who gave the greatest amount of help were I. N. Beery, of Edom, Va., Solomon Beery, Dayton, Va., J. E. Shaver, Friedens, Va., Rev. J. B. McInturff, Strasburg, Va., Dr. G. O. Beery, Lancaster, Ohio; Eli P. H. Beery, Covington, Ohio; and Daniel Young, Vaughnsville, Ohio. Besides these there are many others, who, for their efficient work are commended, and to whom many thanks are due.

It is strange that, in the large number of people with whom I had to deal with in this case, their minds, opinions and interest run in so many different channels. In a very great majority of cases the Beery descendants were exceedingly prompt in reporting their family records, and were overanxious for the publication of this work. There were some who answered only after my continued calls.

Then, again, a very few could not be awakened and never responded, hence the missing links in those families. It is supposed that these persons would not appreciate the History, provided it was donated to them. Indeed, they are to be pitied, and for these cases of omission I am not responsible.

In securing the points of information of these aged ancestors and their descendants, it was necessary to interview grandfathers and grandmothers, family Bibles, etc., as well as old documents and public records. As the information came in crude form, it was necessary to shape it by rewriting, interlining and correcting, after which it had to be rewritten, and yet all this was small, compared with the letter-writing to so many nooks and corners for information. Some of the answers were mixed up and badly written, which made it difficult to analyze. It is to be wondered whether there is one in a thousand, of the readers of this History, who realizes the amount of work connected with the search for the material of this vast relationship.

The writer wishes the readers to observe that the object in producing this History is not speculation, but in honor due to my ancestors, and for the purpose of interesting the relatives who are thus mentioned, as well as, perhaps, many of the future generations who may possibly look upon it with interest, to know who their ancestors and relatives were.

The author donates his two years' time and work, besides postal and other expenses, and if the sale of the books will but barely compensate for the printing and binding it is all that is expected. Therefore it is to be hoped that the Beery generations will be liberal and prompt in purchasing books and helping to defray the expenses of publication. Indeed it was with great difficulty that all these available points were obtained, and yet, since the completion, I accept the results with a feeling of satisfaction that the history of our noble ancestors and their descendants has been recorded.

In concluding this article, I feel that I would love to become personally acquainted with each one of its readers, but this is impossible. I would very much appreciate as a favor, to have a postal card or letter from as many of these who feel disposed to send me a word of approval or disapproval, of the interest they may find in this unpolished History. If disapproval, do not hesitate to be frank in mentioning your criticisms.

Respectfully yours,

J. H. WENGER

July 27, 1905.

EXPLANATION.

The fractional numbers in this History are due to delinquency of families, who were late in reporting, therefore, in order to place them in rotation with their nearest relatives, it was necessary to add them as fractional.

The foregoing 1,041 full numbers and 22 fractional numbers make a total of 1,063 families, and between five and six thousand persons, all related, of whom 700 bear the name of Beery.

This History is on sale, at $1.50 per copy, postpaid. Send all orders and money to Joseph H. Wenger, South English, Iowa.

GENERAL INDEX.

The first-mentioned names are those who are in direct relation with the Beery lineage. You can determine whom you want by the marriage partner. The left-hand column of figures shows the number of generations. The right-hand column shows the corresponding number under which the name is recorded. Pay no attention to pages.
